NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will now go back to House Bill No. 1371.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1371, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of article two of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is herey enacted by the authority of the same That section two of article two of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 (a) The mayor shall be chosen at the municipal election and shall hold office for the term of four years and until his successor is elected and qualified but shall not be eligile to the office for the next succeding term No person who has not been a citizen of the United States for at least five years shall be eligible to hold the office of the mayor and no person shall be eligible to hold the office of director appointed by and under the mayor except said person be for five years prior to his appointment an actual bona fide resident of said city

(b) If two or more candidates be equal and highest in votes one of them shall be chosen mayor by a vote of the majority of all the members of the incoming council immediately upon its organization

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, with reference to House Bill No. 1371 I do not want to tire the indulgence of the House which has been very patient with me, but this is a Philadelphia bill that I am sorry to say looks to me to embody a bad principle. It provides that nobody can be appointed to a directorship in Philadelphia unless he has been a resident of the city for five years. If we had a proviso like that I doubt very much whether the present Director of Public Works, who used to live at Harrisburg, could have been appointed. I am quite sure that Colonel Ludlow, the engineer of the water works, who did that marvelous work there in the water system, and probably there are some other present directors in the present mayor's cabinet that might be affected by the same provision. It seems to me that governing the municipality is a scientific job and when a man is entrusted with the duty of being mayor he ought to be allowed the privilege of selecting the best man he can possibly get to help him. As a Philadelphian I am proud of Philadelphia and proud of the record that Philadelphians make, but I am quite certain that one of the things that helps Philadelphia attain her national position is that every now and then we bring into Philadelphia some one from the outside who gives us a new point of view upon our practical problems. I would not like to see a Chinese wall built around Philadelphia so that no one could come there and take part in our government unless he had been there for five years previous to his appointment. It seems to me that the bill embodies a bad principle and therefore I shall feel constrained to vote against it.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before you is a bill that relates to Philadelphia only and the principle involved in the bill is, first; this: At the present time there is no law in our city charter which would prohibit an unnaturalized foreigner form being naturalized tomorrow and the next day elected mayor of Philadelphia. I think you will all agree with me that no man ought to be elected mayor of Philadelphia that was naturalized yesterday. The bill provides that no person who has not been a citizen of the United States for at least five years shall be eligible to hold the office of mayor. Now, do you want a foreigner to be elected mayor of your great city of Philadelphia? The next principle that my friend from Philadelphia complains of is this: No person, the bill says, shall be appointed a director who has not been a resident of Philadelphia for five years. Is that principle good or is it bad? Under our charter law today if the mayor dies the Director of Public Safety would follow him and become mayor of the city. Ought a man be mayor of a city who is unacquainted with its people, with its habits and with its customs? It seems to me that Philadelphia ought to be able to find in Philadelphia men to rule Philadelphia, and I ask this Legislature to say to the citizens of Pennsylvania that your great city, having a daylight population larger than the United States of America had when our forefathers wrote into the Constitution that no one shall be a president who is not born here, will find in that city men to rule it.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers , permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. peaker, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the if he thinks it would be possible for a person who has not been a resident of the city of Philadelphia for five years to be elected mayor without the endorsement of the Republican organization of the city of Philadelphia?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I can answer the question. There came from Germany a German who was not naturalized many years and the reformers of Philadelphia put him up for the office of Mayor of Philadelphia, a naturalized foreigner. Mr. Edmonds, of Germantown, assisted in that campaign. I submit to you Pennsylvanians that there are enough native born Philadelphians and Pennsylvanians to be Mayor of our great city without having to go to Germany.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, Did the gentleman from Germany receive a majority of the votes for Mayor?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, members of the House and Mr. Armstrong, the gentleman from Germany did receive a majority of the votes.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Is not that the principle upon which this government is founded, the man receiving the majority shall receive the office.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, that is not the principle for a foreigner to come to the United State and get a majority of the votes. We would have to set aside the Constitution to accommodate my friend, the gentleman from Armstrong.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. He was a naturalized citizen, was he not?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes; but a naturalized citizen cannot be even President of the United States.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. But can he be mayor of Philadelphia?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes, sir.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Did he make good?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, he did not make a good one. Mr. Speaker. that gentleman was a miserable failure and everybody knows it.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I did not expect to take part in this argument a second time, but inasmuch as my friend has referred to the naturalized German I would like to call attention to the fact that he was naturalized when I think he was twenty-one years of age in the city of Philadelphia, and he was for many years one of the most active citizens and from that time on there was scarcely a charitable or humanitarian work in which his name was not given as a leader. He was elected mayor of Philadelphia, I always understood, with the support of some of Mr. Sower's friends. They certainly claimed credit for it afterwards. He gave Philadelphia for four years the best municipal administration it ever had. Under those circumstances I do not think we fared so poorly with the naturalized German.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members, Mr. Edmonds is usually wrong in politics. My friends did not support the gentleman from Germany. My friends will think that that was the only occasion that we have had a foreigner for mayor. Just quite recently we had a man from England who was not naturalized for a long time and he was elected mayor of Philadelphia. I ask you to support this bill; I ask you to support the principle that is back of this bill, and I think you won't go wrong in doing it if you consider your own American principle.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia one more question. If this bill should pass could General Butler retain his position in Philadelphia.

Mr. SOWERS. Yes, sir.

Mr, ARMSTRONG. You are sure of that?

Mr. SOWERS. Yes, we don't want him to go.

Mr, EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia. Where the bill says: "No person shall be eligible to hold the office of director appointed by and under the mayor except said person be for five years prior to his appointment an actual bana fide resident of said city," would not that automatically disqualify General Butler?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, No. This bill would not be retroactive.

Mr. EDMONDS. It says "No person shall be eligible to hold office."

Mr. SOWERS. He has been appointed already.

Mr. EDMONDS. But it says that no person shall be eligible to hold office except that for five years prior to his appointment he was an actual bona fide resident.

Mr. SOWERS. But this bill is not retroactive.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified as follows:

Mr. STADLANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we heard tonight that we have so many bills on third reading calendar that should be passed in order that the Senate may have them in time that if we are going to fool away time by reconsidering bills that have bee defeated you will not be able to get through with your third reading calendar in order that the Senate may receive them in time. This bill was voted on last Wednesday and received but forty-nine votes. It looks as though it was a hopeless question to take up the time of this House with bills that really have no chance to pass so I ask you to vote this motion down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Voltz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VOLTZ. I will.

Mr. MARSHALL. I would like to know if this bill provides for a double assessment.

Mr. VOLTZ. It does, provided borough council sees fit; but it is not mandatory.

Mr. MARSHALL. My question is, does not this provide for two standards of valuation in boroughs?

Mr. VOLTZ. The same principal is used now in third class cities in making assesments but it is not mandatory in the boroughs.

Mr. MARSHALL. As I understand, you have one standard of valuation for borough and school purposes and another for county and poor taxes.

Mr. VOLTZ. Not necessarily.

Mr. MARSHALL. And another for county and poor taxes?

Mr. VOLTZ. It does not necessarily mean that, it means that the assessors may elect.

Mr. MARSHALL. Do you have two sets of assessors? I would like to know, Mr. Voltz, if this provides for separate assessors for county and poor purposes and another set of assessors for borough and school purposes.

Mr. VOLTZ. The regular assessors that are elected for county purposes will function and this assessor is a reparate assessors elected by the council of the borough.

Mr. MARSHALL. What is the advantage of a separate assessment when the law already provides for all the property to be assessed at one hundred per cent of value?

Mr. VOLTZ. That is not always done. Assessments are not always made on one hundred per cent valuation in boroughs.

Mr. MARSHALL. Your law provides for the same thing that the other law provides for and how do you know that either is going to be complied with?

Mr. VOLTZ. Not necessarily.

Mr. MARSHALL. My objection to this bill is this: The law now provides for the property to be assessed at its real market value. If that law is complied with we get exactly what we are trying to get by this bill; but by having a separate board this bill provides that this separate board shall value for shcool and borough purposes, assessing at one hundred per cent of its market value. We simply double the expense of the assessment. We have two separate assessments the same as we have in third class cities where there is an overwhelming sentiment in favor of making one assessment. I think it is a mistake to pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, before ruling on the point of order I desire to state that I believe that my amendment is in order and is regular here, and that the amendment should be read as it has been placed at the Speaker's desk to include all House Bills on Second Reading, thereby being fair with everybody in this House, and not picking out a special few.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, the Rules Committee at this time desires leave to withdraw the report of the Rules Committee.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and leave is granted to withdraw the report.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the following resolution, "Resolved that on Monday and Tuesday, April 13th and 14th preference shall be given to House Bills on Third Reading and Final Passage" was agreed to by the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the gentleman from Allegheny that that thereby becomes a rule of the House, but a rule of the House may be suspended for a specific purpose upon motion.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, that is one of the purposes of getting seventeen second reading bills before the House, in their regular order, giving preference to none. It will take about five or ten minutes of the time of the House, and we should be fair in our last moments. I submit this motion should be acceded to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Whitehouse and Mr. Watson.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. NEELEY. Mr. Speaker, the amendments made by the factory to the sponsor of the bill and I would ask that the House concur.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, when this bill passed the House two weeks ago I called the attention of the members to its provisions and intimated to them, it being the judges' salary increase bill, that the total increase carried by that bill was $406,000 per year. This bill has been further amended in the Senate to include the Supreme and Superior Court Judges, giving them each an increase of $1500. While in two instances the salaries have been slightly reduced from the original bill, in other instances it has been materially increased. I have not had time to tabulate these increases but by reference to the increases in the bill I would say that it represents an incrase of $450,000 over the present salaries of the judges. I feel, in justice to the members of the House, that I should call their attention to the provisions of the bill in which you are now asked to concur.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lehigh,, Mr. Schantz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, whether or not there is any question about Senate Bills Nos. 1252, 1253, 1254, 1257 and 1258 being sectarian?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I believe so.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, do I understand the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, to say that they are appropriations to sectarian institutions?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, no, that was not the question. The question was whether there was any discussion on the subject, whether it was not a mooted question, whether or not they were sectarian. I said I believe so. I did not say they were but it is a question that was raised in regard to these bills, and as I understand it they threshed out the matter and decided the question in the House and I accept their verdict, because I have learned to look upon the verdict of the House with very high regard and for that reason I accept their verdict, but the bills are under suspicion, although I understand they were investigated and had been decided not to be sectarian.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, there seems to be a mishapprehension in the Senate and I know no one wants to vote against any appropriation to an institution that is doing good for the citizens of the State of Pennsylvania. I have just been informed that the Auditor General and the Department of Welfare agreed on these bills last session and that the appropriations were paid and they are not catalogued or classified as sectarian institutions.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1277, (House Bill No. 1126) on third reading entitled:

An Act providing for the widening altering or vacating of roads heretofore laid out within the Commonwealth under the provisions of special acts of assembly and known as State roads be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, with much pleasure.

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, I would like to know why this bill is to be recommitted.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, for the reason that it has never passed through the Committee on Public Roads and Highways. It is the bill I suppose that came over after midnight last week and in order to advance it on the calendar was put in committee and out right away, and there never has been any hearing and several members of the Committee have come to me and asked that I take this action in order that it may be properly considered.

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, for a hearing?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, if you want to call it that, yes.

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, if it is not for a hearing, I think it is an Act of Assembly which is absolutely necessary to meet certain contingencies in certain counties. It provides for the vacating of public roads that have been created by Acts of Assembly, and it seems that in the County of Juniata, where they tried to vacate a certain road, the Court ruled that it could not be done, that there was no law to meet the situation, and this Act of Assembly meets the situation. It cannot vacate anything but the road that has been made and established by Act of Assembly in years gone by. I think it is necessary and I would like to see the act become a law. I hope it will not be recommitted.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A division being called for twenty-three Senators voted in the affirmative, thirteen in the negative, whereupon the question was decided in the affirmative.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, there were some Senators counted in that roll who were not in their seats. Senator Weingartner was not here, Senator Stites was not here and Senator McNichol was not here. I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is informed that the Senators instructed the Clerk to be recorded as voting aye when the roll was called. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:

YEAS—31.

Aron,	Daix,	Harris,	McNichol,

The PRESIDENT. Are there any corrections?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I challenge that vote. I challenged it when I asked for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll has been verified and there were no corrections.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the roll was verified but it was verified by counting Senators who are not in their seats.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, whether he is able to say that the Senators were not in their seats when the roll was called?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, yes, they were not in their seats when the roll was called.

The PRESIDENT. In compliance with the wish of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, the Chair will ask that the roll be recalled and anybody that is not present or who is present and does not answer to his name will not be recorded. On about the first roll call it will be discovered that there is not a quorum present, and the Chair gives fair warning. We have asked for order in this Chamber repeatedly and we are not getting it. It is not the fault of anybody who is recording the vote of the Senators when the Senators themselves neglect to answer.

The roll was again called and was as follows:

YEAS—31.

Baldwin,	Davis,	Homsher,	Patton,

BILLS RECOMMITTED.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1353, (House Bill No. 1571), on third reading, entitled:

An Act relating to bonus in all cases where corporations shall heretofore have provided or may hereafter provide for shares without nominal or par value be re-recommitted to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. CULBERTSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, this bill has not been well considered in my judgment by this Senate. It was railroaded over here last Wednesday afternoon, was sent to a committee, reported out and read that day. I have here a brief which I will ask the Clerk to read, giving the facts or the views of one of the very best attorneys in the State of Pennsylvania regarding this type of legislation.

HOUSE BILL No. 1571, ENTITLED "AN ACT RELATING TO BONUS IN ALL CASES WHERE CORPORATIONS PROVIDE SHARES WITHOUT NOMINAL OR PAR VALUE."

This bill, if it should become law, would be a complete departure from the principles of previous bonus legislation. Heretofore bonus has been imposed upon the amount of the capital and any increase thereof, and not the number of shares of any corporation at the time of its organization or at the time of any increase of its capital.

Under the proposed Act, the bonus would not be imposed upon capital but upon the form and number of shares representing that capital. Thus, if a corporation having $1,-000,000 of capital, represented by 10,000 shares of the par value of $100.00 each, should convert that capital into ten times as many shares having a par value of $10.00 each, no additional bonus would be imposed. If it should convert into ten times the number of charges without par value, it would be obliged to pay a bonus upon 90% of those shares, amounting to $30,000. Such bonus would also be payable if 100,000 shares of the par value of $10, each were converted into 100,000 shares without par value, although there would be no change in the number of shares. In neither case would there be any increase whatever in the Company's capital, or its resources.

Moreover the amount of bonus payable upon such conversion would vary in each case in accordance with the number of shares of non par value shares issued in conjunction, although the stated capital should remain unchanged and identical with the original aggregate par value of the outstanding stock upon which the full amount of the bonus has already been paid to the Commonwealth. Thus, if the 10,000 shares having par value are converted into 20,000 shares without par value, instead of into 100,00 shares of par value, the additional bonus will be $3,333.33 1/3, and if into 1,000,000 shares of non par value, the additional bonus would be $330.000. If the conversion was from 10,000 shares of stock without par value originally authorized at the time of incorporation to a greater number of shares of non par value, again without an increase in stated capital or an increase in the actual capital fund, the corporation would have to pay the additional bonus.

By contrast, outstandiung shares having par value may be divided into a greater number of shares of a smaller par value to whatever extent a corporation may desire, without paying any additional bonus whatever, the companies actual capital fund not being increased. There seems to be no substantial reason why a corporation should not be permitted to increase the number of its shares of any kind or class without being penalized, provided the capital is not increased.

The use of no par value shares has been approved as a distinct advance in corporate organization methods by the Legislatures and Courts of almost all the states and has come into general use. Elaborate provisions have been made for it by the Pennsylvania Law with careful restrictions for the protection of the stockholders and the public. No reason whatever is apparent why corporations making use of this privilege should be subjected by the Commonwealth to erronous charges which are not exacted from other corporations identical in every respect except that their outstanding shares have par value.

The amount which a corporation should pay to the State for the privilege of issuing or increasing its stock should depend upon the amount of its resources embarked in the corporate undertaking. This amount is fixed, when shares having par value are used by the aggregate par value of those shares, which must be issued for property or money at par. In the case of non par value shares. it is fixed by the carefully drawn provisions in the Act of July 12th, 1919, P. L. 914, providing that whenever non par value shares are issued the stated capital shall be fixed representing the capital fund against which such shares are issued and providing that such capital fund must be preserved and maintained intact for the corporate purposes; and any additions to the companies capital fund obtained by the issue of additional non par value shares, must be reported as a "Net addition" to stated capital and a bonus paid thereon.

If the bonus legislation is amended at all, it should be so amended that the bonus upon non par value shares authorized at the time of the organization, or upon merger, as well as non par value shares issued in conversion, shall be measured by the stated capital, in order to assure equality in all cases between corporations having par value shares and those having a capital fund of the same amount but represented in the whole or in any parts by non par value shares.

Pennsylvania has always prided itself on being a progressive State and certainly the Pennsylvania Legislature will not knowingly impose on the privilege of using this modern corporate method of financing a restriction which in all cases is illogically burdensome and in many cases wholly prohibited, and thus either proclude Pennsylvania Corporations from adopting it or necessitate incorporation under the laws of other states.

The extraordinary inconsistencies and inequalities which result from imposing a bonus charged upon a number of shares of non par value stock, upon the arbitrary assumption that each is the equivalent of a share of $100.00 par value, are manifestly unscientific and undesirable from the Corporation Law point of view. The bill is ill calculated to raise revenue for the Commonwealth because in many cases it imposes a prohibitive expense upon the use of non par value shares which can usually be avoided by incorporating in other states.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not hold any particular brief for this bill, but the finance and budget officer of the State of Pennsylvania and the Auditor General of the State of Pennsylvania seem to have gotten together for once, and I would like to have read what the finance and budget officer, and also the Auditor General, say about this bill. It seems as though there has been a conference that lasted over several days, in the office of the Auditor General, and these gentlemen who have submitted the brief were in that conference and they could not get together. There was no way that they could amend this bill to satisfy the Auditor General and finance officer and the people who are making objections to it.

The Finance Officer says:

The purpose of House Bill 1571 is to make clear the purpose of preceding Acts of Assembly; In the case of the creation of corporations having the right to issue shares of stock without nominal or par value or in the case of an increase of such shares of stock in such corporation the Act of 1919 clearly states the amount of bonus which shall be paid but it has been contended and cases are now pending in the Dauphin County Court that under the Act of 1923 corporations have the right to change or convert shares of stock of corporations having nominal or par value into any number of shares without nominal or par value.

It is contended that a change, for example, of a corporation having the right to issue 500 shares of a nominal or par value of $100, may change such number of shares into 2,000 or more shares without nominal or par value and that no bonus is due thereon.

This clearly was not the purpose of the law and it is for the purpose of clarifying the situation that this Bill is proposed.

The effect of the contention with reference to the Act of 1923 upon the revenues of the State and the injustice which will result to corporations which were originally created under the Act of 1919, with a right to issue shares of stock without nominal or par value is apparent.

Many corporations have been created under the Act of 1919 and have paid the bonus charged thereunder. If the contention made with reference to the Act of 1923 be sound namely, that a corporation having the right to issue shares of stock with nominal or par value may change or convert such shares into any number without nominal or par value such latter corporations will be relieved from the payment of bonus, and a practice as I shall herein state will clearly arise.

A corporation will be created with a right to issue shares of stock with nominal or par value in a minimum amount such as 50 shares of a par value of $100 each the bonus upon which will amount under existing law to $16.67. Thereupon proceeding under the Act of 1923 such corporation will change or convert such 50 shares of a nominal or par value of $100 into 1,000 shares without nominal or par value and pay not a single penny of bonus. A corporation having been originally created with a right to issue shares without nominal or par value in the number of 1,000 shares as in the case of the latter corporation would have paid a bonus of 1/3 of 1 percent upon $100,00 which would be $333.34.

It is the opinion of the present Auditor General that the passage of this bill is imperative unless the Legislature be willing to face a considerable shrinkage in the estimated revenue from this source for the forth-coming biennium.

I also submit the following statement from the Auditor General:

Senate Bill No. 1353, being House Bill No. 1571, which is before the Senate upon third reading today, is an Act entitled "An Act relating to bonus in all cases where corporations which heretofore have provided or may hereafter provide for shares without nominal or par value".

This Bill is predicated upon the existence of statutes in this State providing for the issue of shares of stock without nominal or par value. In order that the Bill may be clearly understood in its purpose it is necessary to consider Act No. 363, approved July 12, 1919, P. L. 914.

This is the law authorities stock corporations to make provisions for the issue of shares of stock without nominal or par value. This Act of Assembly provided for the payment of bonus on no par shares at the par value of $100 each. This Act of Assembly clearly indicates a legislative purpose to put corporations issuing shares of stock without nominal or par value upon the same plane as those issuing shares of stock with nominal or par value. If it were not for this Act of Assembly there would be no authority whatsoever to issue shares of stock without nominal or par value.

Under this Act authority was given to increase and reduce the number of shares which the corporation is authorized to issue in the same manner and upon the terms and conditions now provided by law for the increase or reduction of capital stock of corporations having shares with a par value. See (Sec. 9 of the Act.)

Section 11 of this Act of 1919 provides that for the purpose of computing the bonus each share of stock without any nominal or par value is to be considered the equivalent of a share having a nominal or par value of $100.

The Act of 1919, however, made no provision for the changing or converting of shares of stock with nominal or par value into shares of capital stock without nominal or par value. Thus there was no provisions in the event that a corporation which was created with the right to issue shares of stock with nominal or par value desired to change such stock into stock without nominal or par value. In order to provide for such a situation Act No. 185, approved May 21, 1923, P. L. 288, was enacted.

Under the provisions of this latter Act the corporations specified therein which had a capital stock consisting of shares of stock with nominal or par value were given the right and privilege to change or convert such shares into shares of stock without nominal or par value, in accordance with the method of the then existing law providing for the increase of shares of stock. This Act of Assembly further provided that for the purpose of computing the bonus the provisions of the hereinbefore referred to Act of 1919 were to be followed.

Thus as the law stands today a corporation which is created with the right to issue shares of stock without nominal or par value pays a bonus upon an authorized capital stock equivalent to the number of shares which it is authorized to issue times $100 each, upon which amount the rate of one-third of one per cent. fixed under existing laws as the rate to be applied for the payment of bonus in the cases of corporations issuing shares of stock with nominal or par value. It is very clear when considering these two Acts of Assembly that it was the intention of the Legislature to place both classes of corporations, or rather both classes of stock, and the right to issue the same upon the same basis for bonus purposes. This was in line with the then existing and now existing fiscal policy of the State in the matter of the charge for the right of privilege of being incorporated and the right or privilege of issuing shares of stock.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. M. K. Burgner, Clerk of the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

The SPEAKER (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee this morning, our Heavenly Father, for Thy light, and grant that even if days be dark and dreary outside, that we can make light wherever we are. May we appreciate everything that light and sunshine means to us and realize that some days must be dark and dreary, and that no matter if they are and that even when winter comes, spring is not far away; and so, to every one in this House today, if there may be sadness or sorrow in their lives, grant them to look through the sorrows and through the clouds to the sunshine. Be with the Chief Clerk of this House in his affliction, and may the gift which has been given to him by the members of this House cheer his hours in his home and gladden his heart. We thank Thee for the fellowship and for the good feeling in this House among the members. Help us to realize that the best things in life after all are the things which we can get without money and without price, and without appropriations; that they come to us as gifts of our manhood and womanhood. Bless us all this day in everything we do and in everything we say. We ask in Thy name. Amen.

SENATE MESSAGE.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1554.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, nonconcurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 1554, entitled:

An Act authorizing the use of certain moneys in the Motor License Fund for township reward and state-aid construction and making the necessary appropriation from the Motor License Fund therefor

And has appointed Messrs. Schantz, Buckman and MacDade, a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (already appointed), on the subject of the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 272.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office. Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval House Bill No. 272, entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Benevolent Association's Home for Children, Pottsville, Pennsylvania".

This bill makes an appropriation to the Benevolent Association's Home for Children at Pottsville.

I am advised by the Department of Welfare that the work of this institution is below the minimum standard which should be required of any agency receiving financial aid from the Commonwealth.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor be laid upon the table.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 12.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office. Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval House Bill No. 12 entitled. "An act making an appropriation providing for a deficiency in the maintenance of the Glen Mills Schools, Glen Mills, Delaware County, Pennsylvania."

This bill makes a deficiency appropriation to the Glen Mills Schools.

The 1923, Legislature made a lump sum appropriation to this institution for maintenance without any restrictions in the nature of per capita cost or otherwise which prevented this institution from paying its maintenance cost during the current biennium out of the amount of the 1923 appropriation. The institution is under the supervision of the Department of Welfare and no request was made to the Department to approve in advance expenditures which would result in a deficiency for the current biennium. The Department of Welfare knows of no reason why the deficiency appropriation is necessary and recommends that none be granted.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor be laid upon the table.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 142.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office. Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval House Bill No. 142 entitled, "An act making an appropriation to the Messiah Rescue and Benevolent Home of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Messiah Rescue and Benevolent Home of Harrisburg which, I am advised by the Attorney General, has been held to be a sectarian institution. Under Article III, ection 18 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the Legislature is prohibited from making appropriations to denominational or sectarian institutions, corporations, or associations.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor be laid upon the table.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 320.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office. Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval House Bill No. 320, entitled, "An act making an appropriation to the Dixmont Hospital of Dixmont, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Dixmont Hospital of Dixmont, Allegheny County, for the purpose of constructing a retaining wall along the Ohio River in the rear of the power plant of the hospital.

In view of the fact that there will not be sufficient revenue available during the forthcoming biennium to enable State owned institutions to receive in full the amounts which they should have for construction work I cannot see my way clear to approve appropriations to institutions not owned by the Commonwealth for work of this character.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor be laid upon the table.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 407.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office. Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval House Bill No. 407. entitled, "An act making an appropriation to the Berean Manual Training and Industrial School".

This bill makes an appropriation to the Berean Manual Training and Industrial School of Philadelphia. This is a private school operated by an individual. The Department of Public Instruction advises that the equipment of the school is inadequate and below standard and that the work done by the school does not come up to the minimum standard which should be required of institutions receiving State aid

In addition, students can obtain without cost the same work offered by this school in the evening schools of Philadelphia, the standards of which are higher than those of this institution.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor be laid upon the table.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 247.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office. Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval, House Bill No. 247, entitled, "An Act making an appropriation to the Williams Valley Hospital of Williamstown Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Williams Valley Hospital, of Williamstown, Pennsylvania. This Institution did not make application to the Commonwealth for an appropriation through the Department of Welfare. I believe it to be a sound policy to grant appropriations only to those institutions which make application to the Commonwealth through its regularly constituted agency, thus affording opportunity for an investigation of the work and needs of the institution and can not see my way clear to approve any appropriations for which such application has not been made.

For these reasons I withhold my approval from the bill.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor be laid upon the table.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 461.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office. Harrisburg, April 10. 1925.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval House Bill No. 461, entitled, "An act making an appropriation to the Pittsburgh Newsboys Home of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Pittsburgh Newsboy's Home, the official representative of which has stated to the Department of Welfare that the Home neither desires nor needs a State appropriation.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor be laid upon the table.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval, House Bill No. 102, entitled, "An act making an appropriation to the Elmwood Home for Boys at Erie, Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Elmwood Home for Boys at Erie. The official representative of this institution has stated to the Department of Welfare that the institution does not wish a State appropriation.

For his reason the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor be laid upon the table.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 1016.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office. Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To to Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return without my approval House Bill No. 1016, entitled, "An act making an appropriation to the Bethesda Home, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Bethesda Home of Pittsburgh.

I am informed that this institution has discontinued the charitable work in aid of which the Commonwealth has heretofore made appropriations to it.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON THE TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor, be laid upon the table.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No.359

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return, without my approval, House Bill No. 359, entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania. This is a private organization engaged in home finding, child placement, and adoption work among children and maintaining a temporary home for children Pittsburgh.

This organization up to the present time has not demonstrated its ability or willingness to develop its work in accordance with reasonable minimum standards. It duplicates the work of the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania, with headquarters in Philadelphia; of the Children's Aid Society of Western Pennsylvania, with headquarters in Pittsburgh; and also duplicates the work of certain connty children's aid societies to which the State already makes appropriation.

The records of the Society are inadequate for the purpose for which they are intended; the children placed out are not adequately supervised after placement. The need for the reorganization of the Society together with the need for improved methods up to a minimum standard of child care, has been repeatedly brought to the attention of the officers and executive of the Society by the Department of Welfare without securing adequate improvement.

For these reasons, I withhold my approval from the bill.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor, be laid upon the table.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 237.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return, without my approval House Bill No. 237, entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Diagnostic Hospital Philadelphia Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Diagnostic Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. I believe it to be a sound policy not to grant appropriations in small amounts to small specialized institutions which are located in the midst of large general hospitals equally well equipped to render the service. I therefore withhold my approval from this bill.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

VETO LAID UPON TABLE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill, together with the veto of the Governor, be laid upon the table.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 768.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 10, 1925.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I herewith return, without my approval House Bill No. 768, entitled, "An act making an appropriation to the Passavant Memorial Homes for the Care of Epileptics at Rochester Beaver County Pennsylvania."

This bill makes an appropriation to the Passavant Memorial Homes for the Care of Epileptics at Rochester, Beaver County, Pennsylvania. I believe it to be a sound policy to grant appropriations only to those institutions as to whose methods and results the regularly constituted agencies of the State have had the opportunity to secure the necessary information. In the absence of such information I would not be justified in approving this bill.

For these reasons, I withhold my approval from the bill.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

REQUESTING PASSAGE OF SENATE BILL No 1158.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 14, 1925.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: The question whether the street car riders of Philadelphia and the natural gas users of Western Pennsylvania are to have reasonable fares and just prices is at stake in Senate Bill No. 1158, now in the House Committee on Electric Railways This Bill provides the sum of $100,000 to enable the Public Service Commission to meet the expenses of investigating the present increased fare of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, and the rates charged to the users of natural gas. It simply gives to the Public Service Commission, the legally authorized agent of the Commonwealth for that purpose, the right to ascertain the facts as a basis for its decision on matters of the greatest public importance now actually before it.

The sum asked for is exceedingly reasonable in view of the interests at stake. To deny it would cripple the Public Service Commission in protecting the public against extortion, and would go very far toward depriving every car rider in Philadelphia and every user of natural gas in Western Pennsylvania of a square deal.

All that this Bill would do is to make sure that the facts are known. Without it the difficulty of deciding these cases on their merits would be multiplied tenfold. There is no opposition to this Bill in the open, and there cannot be. Its purpose is obviously right. As a matter of simple justice to the millions of Pennsylvanians directly concerned, I ask for the passage of this Bill before the Legislature adjourns.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, while this is very good publicity advertising we have nothing to do with this bill. This bill is now in the House committee and if I understand correctly was killed by the House committee the committee refused to report it out. Why this bill is now before us I don't know.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlean from Lehigh, Mr. Haas, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. MARSHALL. I would like to inquire whether or not the objectionable features that we have discussed in this bill have been removed.

Mr. HAAS. They have not, Mr. Marshall.

Mr. MARSHALL. Is it your desire to have this bill come up for final passage?

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, this is a borough validating act that the Borough Association turned over to me to introduce. If it is felt that it is absolutely necessary, the amendments could be made in the Senate. If the amendments are made here the bill will die. If you want to let the bill go through on that condition if the amendments are not made I will take it upon myself to recall it from the Governor if necessary.

Mr. MARSHALL. Several of us have made a study of this and are very much opposed to it because of the extremely vicious provisions which it contains. They are so bad that we do not think we ought to allow this bill to get out of the control of this House. This bill provides for validating liens for municipal improvements. We have no objection to validating liens where the liens have been filed, and where the people are given notice that such liens exist, having passed with a defect in the proceedings or defect in the ordinance; but the bill goes further than that and it validates all proceedings upon which it was initiated and it authorizes the municipality to file liens for an indefinite period in the past which liens have long since been outlawed. For instance there is nothing in this bill to prevent you from going back for an indefinite number of years, and taking up an old lien that has been outlawed for five or six or eight years and file it. The result of that is that you are upsetting the entire system of real estate conveyance in Pennsylvania. A man that bought a property five years ago on which an improvement was made two or three years preceding with the law to prohibit the filing of it at the time of it, if this bill is passed you can come in now and file that lien and the man who bought and paid his good money would be required to pay that lien that is put on that property and was not put on at the time that he bought it because of the neglect of some solicitor. To my mind it is an extremely vicious thing for it to be permitted to go out of this House. Such bills ought not contain such provisions, and if the Borough League of this State is going to come into this House with bills of that kind they ought not to ask us to let it go out of our hands. For that reason, members of the House, I am opposed to this bill. I don't think we ought to allow it to go out of our control unless we take those provisions out of it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Ludlow,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1644, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved June twentieth one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five twenty-one) entitled "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal as amended by fixing the time within which transfers by decedents are presumed to have been made in contemplation of death making estates of entirety and joint estates with right of survivorship taxable fixing the time for the register to make return and payment to the Auditor General and State Treasurer

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with reference to House Bill No. 1644, which is now before us for final passage, this bill was prepared and is recommended by the Auditor General's Department in order to clarify the situation with reference to the inheritance tax. It provides in the first place that when a gift, a substantial gift, is made by a decedent within two years of his death that that shall be taken presumptive to be a gift in expectation of death and hence taxable. That, you will note is of course, the Federal act at the present time and brings our State law in harmony with the Federal act. Those members who are practicing in the legal profession will know there is a very important estate in which that question has been very recently raised within the limits of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The second part of the bill relates to tenancy by entirety and provides that where there is a death of the tenant by entireties and the property passes to the other tenant, the husband or wife, as the case may be, that it is therefore deemed a transfer taxable under the law. It is because transfers by entireties have increased so rapidly throughout the country that it has become necessary to have a provision of this kind, and with that understanding I commend the bill to you for your consideration.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, with great pleasure.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do I understand that where an estate is held by entireties that on the death of either the husband or the wife that the tax is levied on the whole estate?

Mr. EDMONDS. Precisely.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In other words, it is a direct inheritance tax. This extends the direct inheritance tax to an estate the owner of which is still alive.

Mr. EDMONDS. It is deemed a transfer taxable, exactly.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not often that I take exception to the tax bills of my friend from Philadelphia. He has made a study of this situation and I look up to him as some authority on that question, but I must take issue with him on this proposition. I think there is no tax on the books today that is as iniquitous as the inheritance tax. Every one of us would like to see that inheritance tax wiped off the books. This is an extension of that inheritance tax really to property of live persons and not dead persons. For instance, a man and his wife possess a property in their joint names, which we call title in entireties, for the protection of that household, for the protection of the family, for the protection of husband and wife. It is the only real protection that a man and wife and their family have, and yet here notwithstanding that protection, and notwithstanding the law is now that immediately upon the death of the one the survivor takes the whole estate, this provides that a tax shall be levied on that whole estate, and yet the owner of that estate is still alive. I certainly am opposed to this bill and the extension of that tax.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I think that there is a good deal of point in what the gentleman from Delaware says. I introduced a bill early in the session restricting tenancy by entireties to the homestead property, and it seems to me it would have been fair on the homestead property to allow that exemption in passing from husband to wife. That bill, however, has not gotten out and the Auditor General reports that in a great many parts of the Commonwealth people are taking their business properties and transferring them into tenancy by entireties, which means, of course, when one of the owners dies there is no tax to the Commonwealth because it passes to the other. Now I don't want to complicate the situation by having two elements in one bill, therefore, I would like to put a preliminary inquiry to you. We can strike out paragraph (e) of section one, and it is a strike out purely, that is to say, it leaves the other part of the bill to which I think there is no objection. The Commonwealth is very anxious to take action, and my question therefore is, may I at this time, if there be no objection on the part of the House, make a motion to strike out that clause (e) and leave the bill just as it is with the change in clause (e). That meets the point that Mr. Alexander has just raised.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection that clause will be striken out and the bill can be acted upon without lying over for printing.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I object.

Mr. EDMONDS. Do we need unanimous consent for a strike out on third reading?

The SPEAKER. It needs unanimous consent to insert amendments on third reading. Just now you are on the question of final passage.

Mr. EDMONDS. Do we need unanimous consent on final passage to strike out?

The SPEAKER. You cannot do it on final passage, without of course, the unanimous consent of the House is granted; in that event you can do anything.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. FRATT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. GOEHRING. My question of information is, can the title of a bill be amended by striking out.

The SPEAKER. The title of a bill can be amended by the House, yes.

Mr. EDMONDS. My feeling is, that the right thing to do would be to amend the bill by striking out the entirety provision, but inasmuch as it is the Auditor General's bill I would like very much to confer with him before so doing. I ask that this bill be passed for the present.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection we will pass this bill for the present. The Chair hears none and the bill is passed over. The bill has passed third reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 540, entitled:

An Act to amend section one and section seventeen as amended of an act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seven) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive with counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, here is a bill to which I think there ought to be no objection. This is an attempt to state clearly the classes of property subject to a four mill county tax. We found universal complaint all over the State that the act which defines what classes of personal property are taxable at the four mill rate was so poorly drafted that many counties were confused as to the classes of property included thereunder. We therefore asked Mr. Fertig to prepare an act which would be clear and which would define exactly the classes of property subject to the four mill rate. The only substantial change is that sinking fund accounts have been taken out from under the act because that was the practice in most counties, although there is some doubt as to whether it is a legal practice. It is our belief that by clarifing this law we will make a better law out of it and hence will enable us to determine whether or not the four mill personal property tax is one clearly stated, a good tax. Some of us have our doubts as to wether it is but at least it should have its chance with a clearly stated rather than a cumbersome law. That is the whole object of Bill No. 540.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

An Act to further amend section twenty of an act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" by exempting corporations of the first class having no capital stock from filing an annual report with the Auditor General

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill involved a very simple proposition. Last year the Attorney General decided that corporations of the first class not for profit, churches and institutions of that kind, must file a capital stock return. That is under the existing law. It caused a great deal of confusion particularly to a lot of very very valuable welfare agencies like the churches that do not keep their books and accounts as our corporations do. Therefore the object of this bill is to take the first class corporations not for profit, which have no capital stock, and exempt them from filing the return on the general principal that if they are exempt it exempts them from the nuisance which does no good to the Commonwealth.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Before we get too far ahead, the sponsor of House Bill No. 1574, on top of page 5, is now in the House.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, we will go back to the top of page 5 and take up House Bill No. 1574.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1574, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and three) entitled "An act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties" making the controller a party defendant to actions against the county and permitting the controller to bring suits on behalf of the county

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call your attention to this bill. This is one of the bills we have had before us for consideration every session. It provides in case the county commissioners do not bring suit for some claim which a controller may think there is a right of claim, that the controller can step in and bring suit. The controller has certain duties to perform. He is practically the auditor to supervise the accounts of the county. We all know that we have factions in all our counties. Many times one faction elects a controller and another faction elects a board of county commissioners, and there is a fight between them. The responsibility for the management of affairs is at the present time vested in the county commissioners, that responsibility is on them. This bill provides that that responsibility shall be divided between two bodies. The responsibility shall be divided between the county commissioners and the county controller. There is no time and no place that the division of responsibility is advisable. Each department must have its own personal responsibilities. The commissioners' responsibilities at the present time is the collection of debts and the proceedings in the county. After that the contraller sits as auditor and audits the accounts. There is another reason why this bill should not pass. As I said in the first place it is a division of responsibility. As I said very often when this political trouble starts, that the county controller and the commissioners are at odds, and you can very readily see that in cases of that kind counties will be thrown into a multiplicity of law suits which they should not be thrown into. Now then having in mind that the remedy at the present time which is endeavored to be reached here is now in the hands of the citizens of the county. There is no necessity that I can see to have this bill passed because any citizens committee, if they believe that their properly authorized officials, the county commissioners, do not proceed with their duties, they can step in and bring this suit and they are the proper persons in the event that the commissioners do not act. I therefore would ask you to vote against this bill.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1641, entitled:

An act to amend section two of the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred twenty-one) entitled "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonweathl of a decedent who was a nonresident of the Commonwealthe at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal" as amended increasing the rate of the tax imposed by this act in certain cases

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr Speaker and members of the House, I would like to preface what I have to say with the announcement that I believe will give as great pleasure to you as to myself, namely, that this is the last time that I expect to ask the indulgence of the House to discuss a tax proposition. It seems to me that the proposition that is involved in this bill is in itself new and as it is so interesting I think some little time should be taken upon it. This is a bill that aims to raise revenue for the Commonwealth. It aims to raise revenue frankly by taking the same from the Federal government in accordance with the terms of the offer which the Federal government has made. It comes about in this way. In 1924 there was passed a Federal income tax law, with an estate tax section. In that estate tax section there is a provision for taxing any estate up to a maximum of forty per cent, and then there was put in the bill a provision that credit would be given on the amount of the Federal tax up to twenty-five per cent. of the amount of it for State taax actually imposed and collected. It follows therefore that where the State imposed an inheritance tax which is paid to the amount of twenty-five per cent. of the Federal tax that the money does not come from the estate at all, but comes from the Federal government as a deduction from the Federal tax. My attention was directed to this matter a few months ago when in conference with the tax commissioner of New York I found that they had introduced such a bill and passed it through the Legislature of New York, with the effect that the Governor was able to reduce the income taxes materially there, and the thought came in my mind that if New York was doing it and the other states to the west of us, we in Pennsylvania ought to be ready to take advantage of our opportunities. What this bill proposes is this: It makes no difference in collateral inheritance tax, as regards direct inheritance tax, it makes no difference on small estates, but when an estate goes up over a million dollars, a million one hundred thousand dollars passes from father to son, or in the direct line, so that it would be subject to our tax of two per cent and sobject to a very high Federal tax, we then tax it at a rate of twenty-five per cent. of the amount of the Federal tax, with a minimum of two per cent., and the result is that what we tax is credited against the amount that the estate has to pay to the Federal government. It follows therefore, that the income that this tax bill will give to the State of Pennsylvania will be contributed by the Federal government by taking advantage of the offer which the Federal government has made to all the states, and which a large number of the states have taken advantage of. I introduced this bill on my own personal responsibility. It is not a Tax Commission bill, because the Tax Commission finished its work before this bill was drafted. Frankly, on the Tax Commission we don't like the estate tax, we think it is a mistake, and as this Legislature said a month ago we think the Federal government should withdraw from the field. A good many people say that it is a mistake for us to in any way recognize the Federal estate tax, but so long as that estate tax exists, and so long as the offer of the Federal government exists from the point of view of Pennsylvania finances we ought at least make an effort to collect the maximum rather than the minimum at the present time. That is what this bill proposes to do, and so far as I can see it there ought to be no one that is damaged by it except the Federal government, and the Federal government has already declared its willingness to be damaged in just this way. Therefore, it seems to me that as a revenue proposition it comes to us with this amount of favor back of it. It does not hurt any of the citizens of the Commonwealth, it merely provides that in estate taxes we can take advantage to the maximum of what the Federal government offers.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. JAMES H. McCLURE. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 663, (Senate Bill No. 333), be recommitted to the Committee on Counties and Townships for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. NEELY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, the bill for which this motion is now made is one as to which there is some question as to the right of boroughs to annex adjoining territories. If the gentleman from Allegheny thinks the bill is wrong, I suggest that he give it a fair opportunity to be heard on third reading and not put it into committee at this time. The motion, if passed, will mean that the bill is defeated without a hearing. I suggest that the House vote down the motion and permit the bill to come up in its regular course where the merits of it may be debated.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED SENATE BILL RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 374.

An Act making an appropriation to the Board of Trustees of the State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy Pennsylvania

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the vote had on final passage and third reading reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

In line 4, strike out the word "seventy-five" and insert in lieu thereof the word "ninety"; strike out the figures "$75,000,' and insert in lieu thereof the figures "$90,000."

In line 6, after the word "the", insert the words "Board of Trustees of the."

Line 10, after the word "law" insert the following: "The further sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Board of Trustees of the State Industrial Home for Women at Muncy for the erection and equipment of a fire proof building or buildings"

On the question,

Will the House concurr in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call your attention to the fact that this is the Muncy Home, to which I called your attention some time ago, one of the most extravagant places there is in Pennsylvania today. This bill has been amended from ninety thousand to one hundred and ninety thousand dollars at the present time, ninety thousand dollars for maintenance and one hundred thousand dollars appropriated to the board of trustees for the erection and equipment of a fire-proof building or buildings; I dont know what it is to be used for, the building or buildings, or anything, but so they have one hundred thousand dollars to spend, that is practically what they want. Now, of course, if you wont to give it to that institution, with the organization that they have at the present time, with the extravagance which was explained to you some time ago, where it is costing this State at the present time so much, that ninety thousand dollars appropriated for maintenance means nine hundred and forty-two dollars per annum per capita, for which you can pretty near board at the Bellevue Stratford. If you want to give them that, vote for this bill; if you do-not think they should have it, vote against this amendment.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you recall a few weeks ago, this House passed a bill which will permit finally of women prisoners being committed to Muncy. At that time mention was made of the attitude of the local Senator, Senator Sones, with respect to the bill. The Senate, together with Senator Sones, has studied and threshed out the question of the general appropriation for maintenance, and that was an appropriation so that the work contemplated by the Act which the House and Senate had sent on to the Governor functions. If the House wants the measure which they passed, and which the Senate, too, has passed, to be of any value to the women prisoners of Pennsylvania, this bill should pass as presented to you. The cause is a worthy one, the Commonwealth's present condition will be advanced materially, and if for no other reason, as I have already stated to the House, this bill should pass for that reason, and I ask you to approve the same.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Philadelphia has not told you that House Bill No. 743, which left the House and went over to the Senate and came back this morning for us to concur in the amendments—I do not know whether he noticed when it came back or not, because I don't doubt he would not know his own child because of the changes made by the Senate—they do not permit anyone to be sent to Muncy, any women to be sent to Muncy over twenty-five years of age, so that there will be very few sent there outside of the ones they have at the present time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1441, (Senate Bill No. 529), entitled:

An Act providing for the assignment of deputy and assistant district attorneys to appear before the grand jury in third class counties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call your attention to the present bill. This bill provides that assistant district attorenys may go before grand juries and present bills and hear testimony. Many of the courts throughout the State have held, and I believe rightfully held, that no district attorney at the present time has that right. It has been held time and time again that they don't have that right, and on numerous times especially unless the grand jury invites them to come in and give them assistance they cannot appear before the grand jury. It seems to me at the present time we are opening a system here, by passing this bill, that is not a good system. In other words, as you all know, the grand jury is the body, the high and lofty body, as we call it, that is supposed to examine the witnesses without any assistance, to see if there is a true bill there, and it is a protection between the Commonwealth and the defendant, or rather between the defendant and his liberty. It has always been held that that body should not be in any way interferred with. In other words, we have a bill now before us asking for a new system of drawing juries to do away with the system of tampering with juries, I know it to have happened time and time again that the district attorney went before the grand jury and with the hearing of but one witness before that grand jury to say "Now, we have a number of other witnesses just like this and you ought to find a true bill," and they find it without hearing the witnesses as they should hear them. It is a practice that should be condemned rather than helped in any way. I think it is a bad practice. In other words, as I said at the present time the only time that the district attorney has a right to go before the grand jury is when the grand jury asks him to come in and give them some assistance. It seems to me it is a bad practice to start.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Is there any one here that can explain this bill?

Mr. HAINES. I ask that this bill be passed over for the present until we obtain some information with reference to it.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the bill will be passed over for the time being.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I think I can explain this bill. The only thing effected by this bill is a correction of language, a correction of term, by striking out "State Highway Commissioner" and inserting in lieu thereof, "Secretary of Highways;" by striking out "State Highway Department" and inserting in lieu thereof "Department of Highways" to conform with the language of the code. There is no change of any consequence affected by this bill at all.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HESS. You may, sir.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do I understand, sir, that this bill is only amended in order that it may conform with the Pinchot language?

Mr. HESS. Right, or the Pinchot vocabulary, if you please.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 572, (Senate Bill No. 49), entitled:

An Act providing for the presentation of libels in divorce to the several courts of common pleas and the awarding of subpoenas thereon

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, is there any one who can explain this bill?

Mr. WELTY. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that there has been some difference of opinion among the courts in the different counties throughout the State. Some of the courts have held that under the present divorce laws the return days are only the term return days, that is, four quarterly return days during the year. Other courts have held that under the present law there are monthly return days. This bill is to clarify the situation and make the monthly return day the return day for libels in divorce.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Welty.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Welty, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WELTY. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Does this make a return day other than the general monthly return day or the term return day?

Mr. WELTY. Yes, it would make a monthly return day.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And what is that monthly return day?

Mr. WELTY. The first monday in the month.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The monthly return day at the present time in most parts is the fourth Monday of the month.

Mr. WELTY. I think that is governed by the rules of the different courts.

Mr. ALEXANDER. But in most courts in Pennsylvania the monthly return day is the fourth Monday is the month.

Mr. WELTY. Yes.

Mr. ALEXANDER. This does not change that return day.

Mr. WELTY. No, it does not change that.

Mr. ALEXANDER. What is the change then from the present law?

Mr. WELTY. The change is this: Some courts throughout the State, including our court, have held that under the present law there are only term return days in divorce subpoenas. That would make four return days a year. Under this law it would make monthly return days for subpoenas in divorce.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Why don't you go and appeal to the Supreme and Superior Court? They will tell you what the law is.

Mr. WELTY. We think we can clarify the situation by this bill.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1540, (Senate Bill No. 495), entitled:

An Act authorizing municipalities to expend money for the purpose of insuring volunteer firemen against death or injuries while going to or returning from or attending fires

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is any one here who can txplain this bill?

The SPEAKER. There does not appear to be any one here familiar with the bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I want to call your attention at the present time—I don't want to complain, you can do as you please about it—but this is a very important time of the session. Right at the end of the session is when as a general thing the obnoxious bills go through. Somebody puts a snake in a bill in an amendment and it comes over here and it goes through, and very often you go home and somebody comes to you and complains about some bad bill that has been passed. You say, "Why, I didn't see that, it passed through just at the end of the session," like this. We should give more attention to the bills that are being passed. Here is a bill at the present time that I have asked some one to explain and no one knows anything about it. It refers to the insurance of volunteer firemen. Some of you members who are in the country districts know that you have practically half of your town belonging to the volunteer fire company. I would like to know from somebody who knows whether this bill will not require the insurance of the whole town practically, where the town belongs to the volunteer fire company. Everybody that belongs to that volunteer fire company must surely be insured. I don't see what the good of the bill is if that is not a fact.

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, sometime ago we passed in the House a bill providing for the placing of volunteer firemen upon the compensation insurance. That bill I think provides for everything that is provided for in this bill. I don't think we need to pass this bill.

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 495. be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

An Act authorizing the Department of Welfare to organize and maintain an orthopedic unit

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in 1921 the Welfare Department was created. Some of us in that House at that time remember what a great night we had the night it was created. It came out of a thunder storm, and it has been a thunder storm ever since. At that time I made the statement that the old Board of Charities which was at that time in operaion was giving a great deal better service than the present Welfare Board is, and the Welfare Department. It was costing this State eighty-seven thousand dollars a biennium. I made the statement at that time that inside of five years the Welfare Department would be costing this State five hundred thousand dollars, and I want to leave to you how far I am off, because this year they are asking, and we are having to give to them, for their overhead three hundred and eighty-seven thousand dollars. Now, here is a bill which helps build up that department and calls for an extra appropriation of thirty-eight thousand eight hundred dollars in addition to the three hundred and eighty-seven thousand dollars which we have already given them. If we continue on we soon will be past the five hundred thousand dollars for that department and we will be up near the ten hundred thousand dollars. It is up to you to say whether you want to give this to that department, whether you want to keep on building it up. We don't know where it is going to reach or what point we are going to come to.

Mr. L. D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there are others of us who had different notions at the time of the inception of the Welfare Department, and we too saw that there were many things connected with that organization which we cannot regard as ideal, but I think that when the Welfare Department comes before us with a bill such as this, undertaking to do the work which they endeavor to do by this bill, I think it is proper wisdom on the part of every intelligent member of this House to support this bill. We will be called upon in the next day or two to support another bill which will mean the transfer of a certain piece of land in a neighboring county where an institution will be provided, if the plans are carried out, where hundreds of children of this State who are unable to procure the health that they now need, will be able to get through the agency of the Welfare Department. I would ask you to support the bill which is now before you.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. HAWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 880, file folio 4673, entitled:

An Act to amend section twelve hundred and eight and to repeal section twelve hundred and four of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inocnsistent therewith" further regulating the dismissal of principals and teachers and repealing the present provision limiting contracts with teachers to three years on page 11 of the calendar of Tuesday, April 7th, was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered.

Mr. WETTACH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, we took a vote on this sometime ago. I for one voted for the bill at that time. I see no reason for voting on this bill at this time. It has not a ghost of a chance of being passed finally in both houses, and we are simply wasting time in voting on this bill at this time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. CRAIG, from the Committee on Municipal Corporations, reported as committed House Bill No. 1769, (Senate Bill No. 347), entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph one of section three of article five of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws, five hundred and sixty-eight), entitled "An act providing for the incorporation, regulation and government of cities of the third class; regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing, consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto" changing the millage provided for general tax purposes.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1769, (Senate Bill No. 347), entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph one of section three of article five of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws, five hundred and sixty-eight), entitled "An act providing for the in corporation, regulation and government of cities of the third class; regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing, consolidating and extending laws in relation thereto, changing the millage provided for general tax purposes.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which Senate Bill No. 516, House Bill No. 1412, file folio 2171, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Welfare to organize and maintain an orthopedice unit on page 16 of today's calendar, was defeated on final passage be reconsidered.

Mr. ADAM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a bill that in the rush of business probably was overlooked or did not receive the consideration we might have given it. It involves an appropriation bill for the benefit of crippled children. I think if the members had known that at the time they might have voted in the affirmative, and I ask that the bill be reconsidered and passed.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, so that there may not be any missunderstanding about this bill, as I read it as amended, it does not carry with it an appropriation. As my friend has pointed out to you, the bill deals only with service to crippled children throughout this Commonwealth, and I would feel particularly sorry for myself if in the closing hours of this session this House would turn its back to that class of children in the Commonwealth.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a welfare bill which you defeated a while ago. It only had a very few votes. It is all right to talk about no appropriation. The appropriation is cut out, but it provides that the State shall "pay the salaries, compensation and traveling expenses of surgeons supervisory clerks and stenographers employed in said unit, and all charges and expenses in connection with follow-up work by employees of said unit as may be appropriated for that purpose."

It is one of the general welfare bills. You have orthopedic hospitals in every one of your cities which do this work at the present time, and do it well, and it does not require any expensive operation of the Welfare Department in this State to carry it out.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Alexander,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1514, (Senate Bill No. 902), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and ninety-three) entitled "An act prescribing the manner and time of submitting to the qualified electors of the State proposed amendments to the Constitution in order to determine whether the same be approved by a majority of those voting thereon as provided by article eighteen section one of the Constitution" as amended

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire if there is any one here who understands this bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is a bill that was introduced by Senator Woodward for the purpose of providing a method whereby the voters should pass on amendments to the Constitution of the United States for the advice of the Legislature before the Legislature itself should take action upon it. It is a similar proposition to the one they had in Massachusetts where the people voted on the child labor bill, the vote itself not being binding on the Legislature, but simply being recommendatory.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia think it is constitutional?

Mr. EDMONDS. For the purpose of advising the Legislature of the sentiment of the people, yes.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Does not the Constitution provide that it first be passed on by the Legislature twice and then submitted to the people?

Mr. EDMONDS. These are Federal amendments.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, has misapprehended the act under inquiry. The one of Senator Woodward relating to the United States Constitution is on second reading, the second bill on page 34. This bill is proposed I think to meet the decision of the Supreme Court since we met two years ago so that instead of having the vote at the next ensuing election it should be at the next election when the matter may be properly voted on, under the decision of Mr. Justice Simpson. I think that is what is meant.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I say, Mr. Speaker, that I think the gentleman from Montgomery is right. I had the two bills confused.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

Section 5 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, it is with deep regret that I call your attention to this bill because of the high respect I have for the sponsor, but under the present law insanity is not a grounds for divorce. Now I just ask you to think this over seriously. When a person goes insane, he does not do so voluntarily, and no act which he has committed probably has driven him into the channel. Do you want insanity to be grounds for divorce? I am not going to ask you to vote against this bill, but I think it is a matter that you ought to give a very great deal of thought to, because divorces are easily granted on the grounds of some wrong committed by one or the other party; but here is an act legalizing insanity as a grounds for divorce, when the person aggrieved did not do anything to cause him to be in that condition. Therefore, I ask you to give it a great deal of consideration.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to my friend from Allegheny, I wish to state that while this is an entirely new proposition in Pennsylvania, it is not a new proposition in the United States. There are a number of states which have such a law, but it is not half as stringent as this bill. Now marriage is more than a contract. A contract is something that people enter into and fix the conditions to suit themselves, but in marriage the terms and conditions are fixed by the state. Should we establish this principle? What do you have? You have this proposition: If a woman or a man had been in an insane asylum for seven years, what is the other spouse doing? What, do you expect the other spouse to do? This bill tends for good morals because it tends to remove something that ought not to exist, to-wit, duel families. Now you have the next proposition. My friends may argue that insanity is something which happens not as the result of any violation of any marriage vow. True, but the state is interested in good families, interested in healthy children, and if a person has been in an insane asylum for seven years, do you want that person to come back and beget in insane children for the state? Let us take the next proposition. The bill provides for absolute fairness in every particular. Nowheres in the United States is the law as fair on insanity as this one is. The bill provides that even if it be the wife who is the one not insane and the husband is insane, that she shall provide for the support of the one who is insane. Now, that is fair. The bill provides for a fair procedure. It requires that notice shall be given to all of the members of the family,—that means all of the relatives of the insane person,—so that nothing can be pulled over while the one is away in an insane asylum. I know of no fairer divorce law on insanity and for good living than this bill, and I ask you to say the bill is a step in the right direction, and that it is a proper step. Do not be misled by what you read of divorces being on the increase. Do not think that separations are on the increase. Before divorces existed, husband and wife separated, and either the husband or the wife went to some foreign country, lived there and changed their names, and raised families. Separations today are as numerous today as they were a hundred years ago. Simply because people get divorces today does not say that separations are increasing. By this bill you will not increase separations, but you will add a bill that will lend to the good moral training of the Commonwealth.

Mr. PEELOR. Just one word, Mr. Speaker, before this bill is voted down. When the day comes to look upon the destruction of the American Republic, the one factor of all that will tend to that destruction is that of divoce. It is the greatest blight on the civilization of America today, and we are here asked to add one more cause for divorce. I know what the gentleman from Philadelphia has said, that in many instances other crimes are committed, but that is no justification in this particular instance, and I trust that every member this evening will carefully consider whether we should add another cause for divorce. I trust that every one of the members of this august body will cast his vote against the enactment of this piece of legislation at this particular time to add another element in the great agency that must ultimately destroy this republic, if persisted in.

Mr. WHITEHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to add, to what his been said, that I would be ashamed to look any good man or woman in the face if I voted for a bill of this kind.

Mr. ALEXANDER Mr. Speaker, some people get ashamed of one thing, and others get ashamed of another thing, but let us leave out all of this—might I say—mockery. We have heard about what will destroy the republic, and all of that. Immoral living will destroy any republic, and there never was any republic in the world, filled with adulterers, that was not sooner or later destroyed. There is no man in this House that reveres the marriage relations more than myself, and I hope that no man in this House will meet with that misfortune of having his helpmate become insane, and get a decree, as provided in this act of assembly, that will permit him to get a divorce. But as serious as I am on that provision, I am just as serious on the other. I would be the last man in the world, knowing your reverence for your own wife,—I would be the last one in the world that would want to see your lives ruined just because your helpmate happened to become insane and was sent to a hospital and you know she will be absolutely incurable for the rest of her life. I cannot imagine any worse thing to happen to any man, but death is sweet compared with such a thing as that, to have one you know forever insane and in an insane hospital, no more to be your helpmate, and you a lonely plodder along life's highway. There can be nothing worse than that. When the time comes I say there is no greater thing can happen, if you must be separated from those ties, than, as is provided in this bill, you shall support your wife until her end shall come and she shall be removed from her misery. I said to the sponsor of this bill, at the time when it was first in the Senate, that unless this bill is amended so that the divorcee shall support his wife as long as she shall live, I certainly will be opposed to this bill, and do all I can against it; but the provisions as it is here, with every protection thrown around it, to provide for her, there being no doubt about her being absolutely incurable, and then putting the other safe guard around it and provide that that husband shall keep that wife until the end of time, so far as she is concerned, this bill, in my mind, does for more good than to have those two people joined together. Human as we all are, I don't care how square a man plays the game, if he is left in that condition, every man is human, and sooner or later he will fall by the wayside, and what is left? I tell you a happy union, even if the other part of his life is ruined and destroyed, perhaps by something that he had no control of, I say that is far better than such a life as under the other conditions.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that he House has passed it without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1501, (Senate Bill No. 232), entitled:

An Act validating ordinances and proceedings by councils in boroughs for the paving and curbing of public highways and validating municipal liens therefor when they have not been filed in time

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, as his name appears on the calendar.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Congressman Golder, permit himself to be interrogated?

CONGRESSMAN GOLDER. I will Mr. Speaker, if the House will give permission.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the gentleman from Philadelphia to explain this bill? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Congressman Golder.

CONGRESSMAN GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the first time since 1917, when I first came into these halls, that anybody showed any interest in any bill which had my name attached thereto. This bill, outside of the fact that it has my name on it, is a very meritorious measure. I spoke to my co-relator on this bill,

Senator Gelder, who tells me among other things that it is not a revenue raiser, it does not create any special funds, and does not in any way interfere with the organization in Philadelphia. I believe it adopts, as my colleague and friend from Pittsburgh, Mr. Marcus, would say, the finest features of the school system of China, added to our own school system, and among other things it curbs public debate. As I understand the principle set forth here, it is for the curbing of public debate, but through an error, accuated - believe by my colleague from Delaware, instead of curbing public debate, it is to curb public highways. However, I will abide by the real intention of the sponsor of the bill to curb public debate and say only this, that I am happy, this entire session, to have been permitted the privilege of this floor. May I say to the new members of the House that while a great deal of the work here may appear new to you, and some of the work may appear unnecessary, and that you may at times possibly feel that your time is being wasted when bills on third reading are not being considered, let me say to the new members that the grass will never be as green as it is here on your first session; and whether you do or you do not come back, your first session will always remain in your memories as one of the brightest spots of your life; and to those who do come back, and to those who are back, with each session that you return the grass will become sweeter—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman from Philadelphia is not speakon the question.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman from Philadelphia is reminded that he must, in his own way, confine himself to the terms of the bill.

CONGRESSMAN GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, this is not the first time, that I have been reminded by a gentlemon of the cloth, that I have strayed from the text. However, I had almost concluded in what I had to say to you. Let me say that I have enjoyed more than I can tell you the companionship, not only of my colleagues of other sessions, but also that of the new members I have met here, not excluding my amiable friend, Dr. Thomas. This is the fifth session I have sat on the benches here, and each session, to me, has been more valuable. I trust that as I go on with my work as Washington I might enjoy it there almost as much as I have enjoyed my work here. I am indebted, Mr. Speaker, and to you ladies and gentlemen of the House, for the courtesy which you have extended to me.

On the question recurring,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 990, (Senate Bill No. 342), entitled:

An Act to further amend clause five of section three of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and twenty) entitled "An act relating to food defining food providing for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by prohibiting the manufacture or sale the offering for sale or exposing for sale or the having in possession with intent to sell of adulterated misbranded or deleterious foods prescribing certain duties of the Dairy and Food Commissioner in reference thereto and providing penalties for the violation thereof"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is anybody in this House that can explain the bill?

The SPEAKER. Is there anybody in the House who can explain this bill?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I am informed by the Department of Agriculture that this is a very dangerous bill and I will read what they have to say about it:

"House Bill No. 990, (Senate Bill No. 342), is an innocent-looking and harmless-appearing amendment to the General Food Act of May 13, 1909; but it is vicious, in that it aims to legalize saccharin in foods for invalids, while the act in another place prohibits saccharin in foods for well people. The amendment is an entering wedge of the Saccharin Trust. Everything that the amendment provides can be done and is done now. Physicians only should prescribe saccharin for diabetice patients. Saccharin is given to no other class of invalids, and when given should be under the physician's directions. If you can consistently vote NO on this bill you will do a great public service"

On this bill we should vote "no" because it is the entering wedge ont only in this State but in other States for the sale of Saccharin. I am giving you just what the Department of Agriculture has given in its advice against the passage of this bill.

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. STAVITSKI. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1540, (Senate Bill No. 495), entitled:

An Act authorizing municipalities to expend money for the purpose of insuring volunteer firemen against death or injuries while going to or returning from or attending fires was dropped from the calendar, be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I voted to drop the bill from the calendar.

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the affirmative.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the bill which this afternoon I made a motion to drop from the calendar, and I have been informed by those who know more about it than I do that this only insures a certain number of firemen, which is the number of firemen who are actively engaged. I was of the opinion, when I looked at it in the first place that all of the firemen in the borough would have to be insured under this bill. They tell me that they desire to insure a certain number of the active members of the fire department. The borough, at the present time, does not have the authority to pay for that insurance, and this is simply an enabling act to permit them to pay for that insurance. I think it was a mistake when I made the motion to drop the bill from the calendar, and I, therefore, ask you to vote for a reconsideration of the vote by which that was done.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

This action has made possible those improvements embodied in the Omnibus Road Bill. In this we perserve to our people for another two years the benefit of the State-aid work, and it is recognized as a fundamental financial principle that we make no new obligations without providing adequate revenue. Permit me again to express my sincere appreciation. Mr. Speaker, I now yield to the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Armstrong.

Legislative Journal

Session 1925 126th of the General Assembly

Vol. 8. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15, 1925. No. 39.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 15, 1925.

The Senate met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we cannot forget, nor would we forget those dark days of sixty years ago when the great hearted Lincoln lay dead, struck down by an assassin's bullet. And yet he is not dead, nor can he ever die. For six decades his body has been moulding in the grave, but his soul has been marching on. We can hear his voice to-day as he summons us to those high altitudes of patriotic service which he himself attained. May we catch his spirit and emulate his example.

Be with the Senators all through this busy day and keep them true to those weighty responsibilities which devolve upon them. For Christ's sake. Amen.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I merely want to state that I was informed yesterday that this bill was directed especially at the Secretary of Banking but today that feature has been eliminated from the bill. I think the statement ought to be made for fear somebody may vote against it under a misapprehension. It is a mandamus bill allowing and amuses against executive officers, but the Secretary of Banking has been eliminated.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, for the benefit of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, I want to say that this bill was amended in Committee and it includes all public officials with the exception of the Secretary of Banking. The argument was made that in a matter pertaining to investigations of Banking institutions here is a delay in the report after investigation, or a refusal, after investigation, on the part of the Secretary of Banking to carry out the programme of the complainant. The proposition was to mandamus the Secretary of Banking, thereby relieving the bank on the question of investigation. A bank under investigation made by the Banking Department would not go out on an unauthorized investigation of some complaint. It is immediately taken up but that gives them the position that they use their own judgment in carrying out a complainant's wish.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to state to the Senators that it is my personal conviction, having watched both commercial and investment Banking for a long, long time, that the argument that was put up was subterfuge and the matter was smoke-screened. The reason the Secretary of Banking—we might as well understand it—wanted to be exempt was for the protection of the Department of Securities, purely and simply. You have got to mandamus the Secretary of Banking in order to get to the Department of Securities and that was the reason, you might just as well face it. It was not a question of the banks. The banks are able to take care of themselves. There is an Act of Assembly that would interfere with any man that started any kind of procedure against a bank that would in any way work a hardship to them, cause a run on them, or anything else. Any Senator who knows the law, or a lawyer, understands that it is purely and simply a subterfuge, a smoke screen, in order to keep the interests of Pennsylvania from attacking the attitude that has been assumed by the Securities Bureau under the Department of Banking.

Now, further than that, it is a very peculiar thing to me, as I go through life and watch men in public office switch around. When a man who is in charge of a great department will state in the presence of witnesses that he has men under him whom he cannot control and that he goes over his head, and that complaints are made to him and that he can do nothing with him, and then you bring him before a Committee and he says that all those things have been ironed out and that everything is all right now, and then within a week find that the same conditions exist,—I will tell you men it is a mighty sad condition when a man's attitude is so weak that it seems as though a matter of position would stand in the way of a conviction, conviction not only as to character but as to knowledge, and I would say to the men that are behind this mandamus bill that they were weak, that they are absolutely weak and they lack courage that they did not go through with it and insist that the Committee that had this bill go through with it, and if necessary when they knew that it was right, that they should have brought it back to the Assembly and passed it over, if necessary, the veto of any executive that would dare to say that the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have not the right to mandamus any officer of the State, in order to get the proper justice and equity in any court of law in the State of Pennsylvania.

I think the bill as it now stands is emasculated, I think the bill as it now stands is not worth the paper that it is written on other than a few officers that are reached.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I recognize the fact that this bill could have gone farther and have rendered a greater service to the people of Pennsylvania had it included the bureau heads in the amendment that was made in this bill yesterday. It was made particularly striking out the Secretary of Banking, and to clarify the position I wish to make a suggestion which I will follow with a motion, that this bill be further amended to include bureau heads, thereby covering all questions and all individuals who have jurisdiction and supervision over government functions in the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, if, as the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, states, that the only object of the Secretary of Banking was to throw a smoke-screen around the Bureau of Securities, why is it that reputable bankers, the various members of the State Board protested against this measure, and why is it that the investment bankers Association of Pennsylvania is also opposed to it?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President for the same reason that the reputable bankers appeared before a Committee on Bill 997, where the Secretary of Banking undertook to investigate and examine the private banks in the State of Pennsylvania and the reputable banks of the State of Pennsylvania came in and they wrote into this bill to except "banking institutions continuously and in the same locality having conducted the business of private banking for a period of seven years prior to the approval of this act." That is the reason that they were here, in a selfish interest, for the same reason that they were here to have themselves exempted in bill No. 997.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. President, this bill, it seems to me, in its general principles, is against the best interests of the welfare of our State. Why should we as representatives mandamus actions to be brought against the various heads of these departments?

It appears to me that if this bill were passed in its present form it would be undesireable. In its form unamended it would be a menace to every banking institution in this state. It carries with it all kinds of possibilities for destruction of good honest, upright institutions, which might be brought about by any enemy who for any reason might become incensed or opposed to any banking institution, but it seems to me especially clear that this bill in its present form is not in the interest of our state. It may be that all of us a one time or other are aggrieved as some department, or individual in a department; but however that may be it seems to me that we should keep in mind the betterment of the interests of the people of our state. I have seen and I believe all the Senators here have seen times, the abuse of mandamus actions in the city of Philadelphia and why should we open the doors for abuses of this kind? As I understand it our first duty is to look out for the interests of the Commonwealth and its citizens and I believe that this bill is opposed to their best interests and I think it should be defeated.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to call the attention of the Senators who have not paid much attention to this bill that this amendment "provided that no game protectors shall have power to enforce or be called upon to assist in the enforcement of any law except laws pertaining to the protection of game or other wild birds or wild animals or to fish, frogs or terrapin or to forests".

It seems to me that that bill is aimed directly at law enforcement, particularly as it applies to the officers in this State, and God knows we have to have enough of them, and they might happen to call upon the game protector to help him get stills that are located in the woods or somewhere else. I am calling that to the attention of the Senators for their use and benefit.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I simply want to state that this is one of the Commission bills exempting the estates of non-residents decedents from taxation in Pennsylvania, providing there is a reciprocal arrangement with other states. During the last fiscal year it amounted to eight hundred and sixty eight thousand dollars. Of course, any one knows how much less there will be, and we all, from the President down, are in favor of doing this.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1291, (House Bill No. 736) on third reading, entitled:

An Act defining and regulating the business of auctioneers providing for State and local licensing thereof imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth and providing penalties be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, it seems to me that this bill should go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, withdraw his motion to recommit?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I insist upon the motion to recommit.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. BARR, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I would like to know the reason for the motion to recommit.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, explain to me the reason why such a bill should be put on the statute books.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, that is not answering my question. It appears that it is here for consideration and if there is any reason why it should go back I think the Senators are entitled to know the reason.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if the Senator from Philadelphia can tell me why such law should be passed, except to create positions for some more fellows to hold and to be paid out of State money, I will be willing then to meet him half way.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President and members of the Senate, my impression of this bill is—and I have no personal interest in the thing— that there is a rumor among the well established merchants in the State of Pennsylvania that it was high time for them to have some protection from auctioneers who go in the best neighborhoods, in the main thoroughfares in the State of Pennsylvania, open a temporary business, take the legitimate business of the merchants who have long established their business in that particular locality, remain there a few days, impose upon the inhabitants of the smaller towns and then go away and take the good money that belongs to towns like Harrisburg and Lebanon, and other little cities; they open up for ten or fifteen days and then walk away with the money that legitimately belongs to the people in those small towns.

My understanding is that this bill is not to affect Philadelphia but is on the statute books for the sole purpose of taking care of merchants in the small cities throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and, as I have been told, the small fellows from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh go into the little communities, take the money that legitimately belongs to the little storekeeper and walk away after ten or fifteen days. I think that ought to be stopped. I have no interest in this bill at all excepting what has been said to me by men coming from the second and third class cities throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, if it is a good thing for cities other than first class cities, why it is not a good thing for Philadelphia?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, the answer to that is that Philadelphia is too big, and we do so much business, that we do not object to some fellow coming and taking a little bit of it and going away with it, we do not miss it.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, whether or not he has not used the word auctioneer and merchant and whether or not merchants, under the law that we passed this session, do not have to be licensed before they can go ahead and do business?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, in answer to that question, I am neither the sponsor nor the guardian of this bill. It does not belong to me and I am not interested in it personally. I did not draw the bill and I do not know really what the wording of it is.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I want to say to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, that I am glad that he denies the paternity of the child.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr President, it appears to me that if this bill is what the Senator from Philadelphia says it is then it ought to be given a different name. As I understand this bill it would mean more men crying public sales, whom they call auctioneers in the country, who cry public sales throughout the country, would be required to get a license first at home and another license from the Secretary of the Commonwealth. That is what we call an auctioneer. The business to which the Senator from Philadelphia refers ought to be given another name, but certainly we people cannot support a bill that requires a man who crys public sales, whom we call an auctioneer, to come to Harrisburg to get a license from the Secretary of the Commonwealth and get a license besides, and I do hope that this bill will either be recommitted to some Committee, where it will die a natural death, or will be defeated on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, it seems to me there is a certain courtesy due the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Hall, of the House, and I can see no harm in having the bill go over in order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not wish to be discourteous to the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Earnest, and if there is any advantage to the sponsor of the bill it can be fixed up so that it will undo just exactly what the Senator from Lehigh has indicated to the Senate it will do, I am willing, with the consent of the seconder to withdraw the motion and give the sponsor of the bill an opportunity to fix it up.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, withdraw his motion to recommit?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, I will withdraw my second.

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, I understood that the bill did not interfere with the kind of auctioneers that the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, was talking about.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

I again ask that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, if there is no one who can offer any explanation of the bill, or say anything about it I would ask that it go over in its order.

Mr. STITES. Mr. President, I will answer the question by saying that the bill eliminates the words officers and employees of mutual benefit associations. It takes them out of the provisions of the act.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, This bill is said to be aimed at General Butler. Whether that is so or not I do not care, but the bill ought not to pass, because it is wrong to tie the hands of any man that he cannot appoint his own cabinet unless he has lived in Philadelphia for five years. There might arise a condition where he would want a specialist as director of transit, public work, Wharves, Docks and Ferries or any other part of Philadelphia and to tie a man's hands that he cannot appoint a man unless he has lived in Philadelphia for five years is an absurd bill. I hope the Senate will vote it down.

Section 2 This act shall take effect on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this is one of the bills of the tax commission to equalize the tax on bank stock. This bill will add about three hundred thousand dollars to the State Treasury and we all have friends of course, that do not like this bill. We all know that the option is exercised now by the majority of these banks paying ten mills on their capital stock instead of paying a four mills tax on the book value. As I say, it will add three hundred thousand dollars to the State Treasury and equalizes bank stock and is recommended by the tax commission.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 600.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 1079, (House Bill No. 600), entitled:

An Act imposing a tax for State purposes on marine insurance underwriting profits and providing for the collection of such tax.

was defeated on final passage.

Mr. HEATON. Mr. President,, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I voted "no".

Mr. HEATON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HEATON. Mr. President, I voted "no".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, to clarify the situation, I trust that the Chair will state the question again. There was some confusion in the Senate when the motion was made to reconsider the bill. If the bill stands as it is it is dead. Is that right?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, that is correct.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, then I trust the vote to reconsider will not prevail.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to do a little clarifying myself. I want to state that many of the Senators voted under a misapprehension that the Fireman's Relief Association was affected by this bill and I wish to state that it is not affected by it, that the hated section has been stricken out of the bill and the firemen are all for it.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I think that Senator Woodward is correct, many members of the Senate misunderstand this bill because the Firemen's Relief Association are certainly affected by this bill and as far as the reduction is concerned by this bill it is for the State of Pennsylvania to get some Marine Insurance, and it has the approval of the insurance people generally. We get about $55,000 from Marine Insurance now. This takes eight mills on the gross receipts and we get 5 per cent on the net receipts and as I understand it.

If this bill should be reconsidered and passed the supposition is that instead of reducing revenues that revenues will be increased on account of the increased business that will come by putting us on the level to compete with foreign companies and I sincerely believe that this is a good bill, I think it should be passed and I do not believe that this Senate is looking at it in the proper light.

Section 4, which raised some question as to the amount of money that went to the Firemen's Relief Association was entirely eliminated, there is no question about it. There was no question about it before and the bill was carefully considered in Committee and generally agreed upon as being a good measure. I think it ought to be reconsidered.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would simply like to withdraw the statement about the firemen being for the bill. That was a figure of speech. I have no knowledge on that subject.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I wish to say a few words about this bill. In the first instance, I am living in a district where I represent the largest Marine Insurance Broker in the country. I sent the bill to him and asked his judgment relative to it. He wired me and replied by letter saying that he considered it a very good bill, in keeping with the insurance laws of England where Maritime Insurance generally prevails and that it was a bill that he believed would build up the marine insurance business of the State of Pennsylvania if it was passed. For this reason I am heartly in accord with his views and in favor of the bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Steele and Mr. Barr, and were as follows:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO COST OF EDUCATION.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, there seems to be a disposition on the part of the entire country to study economy at this time. My attention has been directed by the constitutency that I represent, as well as by the public press, to the enormity of our increased taxes along educational lines, in consequence of the State having reached a point where fifty-two per cent. of the entire revenue is being devoted to educational purposes; and the local taxation on that line has reached the same proportion. Therefore, I ask unanimous consent to offer resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EYRE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 15, 1925.

Whereas, The creation of a commission has been authorized by the General Assembly to investigate the educational needs and resources of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, There has been a rapid increase in the cost of education during the last few years, and unless measures of relief can be devised there is evidence that the cost of education will continue to mount rapidly in the future, further increasing the State and local burden, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the commission created by the Joint Resolution adopted by the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five entitled "A Joint Resolution providing for a legislative commission to investigate the educational needs and resources of the Commonwealth, and make to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven a report of its findings, together with recommendations setting up a unified State policy in public education for the public elementary and high schools, the State normal schools, and the colleges and the universities; prescribing also the powers and duties of said commission; and making an appropriation to cover necessary expenses incident to making such investigation and report," is hereby directed to investigate, as soon as may be after its organization, the cost of education in the Commonwealth to the State and local districts, including the said cost of education in the public elementary and high schools, normal schools and colleges and universities; it shall pursue studies to ascertain whether in the interests of economy a change in our educational system and policy is required and whether waste of public monies, extravagance and useless functions exist in the school system which might be abolished, modified or changed and thereby aid in decreasing educational costs or stay the rapid increases experienced by the State and local districts during the last few years without lowering the standards of education.

The commission shall make such recommendations in its report to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven as it deems advisable to accomplish the purposes of this resolution.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. President, a resolution of this kind should not be brought into the Senate at the eleventh hour and fifty-ninth minute when there has been constituted an Educational Committee to give these matters serious consideration. This resolution affects three million school children and sixty thousand teachers in the State of Pennsylvania. I think it mighty unfair, both to the State and to the conditions that exist, that a resolution of this kind should be brought in here at this time.

A resolution went through the Legislature in a proper and orderly manner. It was considered by the Committee on Education and brought to the floor of the Senate, where it passed and was sent to the House.

Every chance was given to the consideration of that Study Commission, six members of which were to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, three to be Senators and three to be citizens; and six members of which were to be appointed by the Speaker of the House three to be members of the House and three to be citizens; and three citizens to be appointed by the Governor, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction is to be a member ex-officio of the Commission, making sixteen in all.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, not long ago there was published and promulgated through the newspapers a review of a study of our educational system, although official copies are not available I tried to get them by telegram last week and was informed that they would not be off the press until sometime in July, at which time every member of the Senate can be and should be, and every member of the House can be and should be supplied with that study by the Governor of the State through the Department of Education. And you will find, by reference to the newspapers of Sunday a week ago, a review of the report by every great daily newspaper in the United States.

The report shows Pennsylvania to be twenty-ninth in the list of States of the Union that contribute toward education. Pennsylvania contributions the amount of $12.17 per capita of school population,—standing twenty-ninth,—standing only a few cents in advance of the Southern States and equal with Massachusetts in the North.

We do not contribute, in this State, as much per capita of the child population of the schools as does the United States itself toward the promulgation of education to keep step with the advancement that is being made in the public schools.

Mr. President and members of the Senate, then to bring in a resolution of this kind, to decry education and to place upon it the blight that the State of Pennsylvania is giving too great an amount of money to the school children and to the teachers, that we are wasting this money, creates a background, if you pleases, of suspicion and doubt in the minds of the people who pay the bill; and I say it is little short of a crime against our children and against our citizenship. It is a blow to the children and it is a blow to one of the greatest systems that the world has ever devised.

I say to you, members of the Senate, that after making a study of our educational system for the past eight years,—giving it my most earnest attention, I have found that despite the fact that the State of Pennsylvania was unfortunate in having shorn from its head one of the greatest educators, if not the greatest educator in the United States today, Thomas E. Finnegan, and despite the fact that the State of Pennsylvania has been unfortunate in the sickness of Dr. Becht, for whom you and I have the deepest sympathy, that Department, under Dr. Rule and Dr. Haas and Dr. Baish and the rest of these most competent assistant superintendents, all of whom I know and whose work I have watched, has placed Pennsylvania today in a position where it is the equal of any State in the Union from the standpoint of its being run economically and faithfully and with the greatest ability from the standpoint of what it is delivering to the children and the teachers. It is for that reason I speak with the earnestness that I do, and with the feeling that is in it.

To bring in a resolution at this time to try to throw doubt on a great educational system is, I repeat, little short of a crime; and I hope the Senators will not adopt it. Two years more will show that the sharp sword of truth will sever the twisted rope of doubt and suspicion, which this resolution attempts to fasten on our people.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, that the discussion of the resolution is not now in order the resolution speaks for itself. I think there is no doubt in the resolution, nor have I any disposition to get into an acrimonious discussion.

I am absolutely as honest and sincere in my devotion to the educational system of Pennsylvania—and I think I have proved it by my vote on the floor of the Senate—as any other man in this body; and the resolution is offered in absolutely good faith for the purpose of studying the economy of the educational system, and it is referred to the Joint Commission to which reference has been made here.

There is no disposition to discredit the Department of Education of Pennsylvania. I have been a warm supporter of it in this matter other than to serve the best interests of the taxpayers of the State of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Education.

RECESS.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 11 o'clock.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BUCKMAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, April 15, 1925.

Resolved, by the Senate (if the House of Representatives concur), that the commissioners designated by the Governor under the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws, page four hundred and forty-eight) entitled "An act authorizing the creation of a commission to negotiate with the duly constituted agents of the States of New York and New Jersey for the regularization of the flow of the Delaware River, the conservation, apportionment, and utilization of the water resources thereof; providing the method of ratification of such compact by this Commonwealth; and prescribing the conditions of its being in full force and effect" or such other officers of the Commonwealth not exceeding three in all as the Governor may designate for that purpose are hereby authorized to continue to negotiate with the duly authorized agents of the State of New York and New Jersey a compact, in acordance with the Constitution of the United States, for the regularization of the flow of the Delaware River, the conservation of the water resources of the Delaware Basin, the apportionment thereof among the said States for domestic and municipal supply, and the utilization thereof for power and other beneficial uses.

Resolved, That the compact negotiated by the said commissioners shall be submitted by the Governor to the General Assembly, and the Congress of the United States having consented thereto, shall be in full force and effect upon its ratification by a duly enacted law of this Commonwealth and by the States of New York and New Jersey as their laws may respectively prescribe.

The commission shall make such recommendations in its report to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven as it deems advisable to accomplish the purposes of this resolution.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

WEDNESDAY, April 15, 1925.

The House met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. George P. Donehoo, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we think Thee more and more as the years go by that Thou didst through all of the ages save this great and wonderful and beautiful country for our fathers and for their possession; and as we come near to the time when this great nation and this State shall celebrate the anniversary of our birth as a people that we may more and more thank Thee for this land of promise, for the exiles from every country under Heaven, and that we may do everything to keep it a land of hope and of promise for the suffering and afflicted in this world. In order that we may do so, keep us all from any sectarian narrowness and from any bigotry of belief. Help us to realize that this great nation and this great State are both too great and too grand to be limited by any narrowness or by any bigotry. Keep us personally from narrowness and from bigotry of any kind. Help us to have broad visions, and glorius hopes for our common humanity, that notwithstanding any lawlessness or any crime that this State and this nation are after all the greatest development of government that this world has ever seen, and that we as men and as women are a part of this great State and this nation. Bless us all today, and again we pray Thee to be with the Chief Clerk of this House, and if it should by Thy will that he should walk down into the Valley of Shadows that he may do so unafraid, looking to a glorious morning when God's tomorrow comes. And so may we all live and work and act so that when our time comes we may all walk into the Valley of the Shadow with the arms of the Eternal about us, unafraid. Bless us and be with us this day, we ask in Thy name. Amen.
